Plan Your Sprint

For best results, approach your progress in 4 week weight loss sprints. This means not thinking too far ahead in the programme, but really giving each month the best that you have.

Smaller time frames help you keep focus and momentum, which in turn can lead to better success.

At the start of each month, look ahead and consider what goal is possible based on what's going on in your life. Some months your goals will be bigger, and other months smaller.

Let's plan the first sprint.
